

-----
From: Levan1, Suzanne
Sent: Friday, October 31, 1997 8:53 AM
To: Fox, Terrie M
Cc: Latshaw, Bob; Sinha, Arun; Waldman1, Margot
Subject: RE: Enhanced Surface Board (ESB)
Importance: High

There's a slightly different twist to my question -- it's not so much a question in my mind as to who within PM pays -- as much as it's a question of whether we could save money by just waiting to convert until we've run out of the old board. Is there a manufacturing reason that makes it more advantageous to changeover? Because it is not a readily apparent change,

2071444 589

Page 2

I have no problem with just phasing it in when we run out --- but maybe I don't understand the manufacturing process & there is an advantage to doing it the way you recommend?